Anhaar Kareem

Ella Simons

Liv Sutherland

Anhaar (she/her) is a 17 year old law student, advocate, public speaker, debater and writer who has been on the Federal Youth Steering Committee, Wellbeing Health and Youth Committee and is part of the Make it 16 campaign.

Ella (she/her) is currently supporting community independents in the upcoming federal election. She has previously worked on School Strike 4 Climate from age 12 and was the Australian representative at the PreCOP Youth4Climate conference in Milan 2021.

Liv (they/them) has volunteered with the Australian Youth Climate Coalition for the last five years running climate justice workshops in high schools across Australia to empower young people to advocate for the wellbeing of the planet, their communities and themselves.

Please join us to hear these inspiring young activists discuss:

- the importance of hearing young people's voices through broadening suffrage to include their right to vote;
- the government's responsibility to protect the future for young people by taking immediate urgent climate action; and
- championing climate justice by upholding the knowledge, sovereignty and safety of Indigenous people, ensuring that all people have a right to health, food, water, and to life.
